

Alcyone is committed to working with executives and business managers to make I.T. results happen – predictably and with real benefits. All too often, I.T. projects can grow to take on a life of their own – exceeding budgets, limiting scope, and disappointing sponsors. We believe tight partnership between management and technology practitioners can avoid these problems.

SOX HIPAA Compliant Equipment Move

You have worked hard to secure your datacenter, your users are trained, you have installed state-of-the art perimeter security, you have a unified directory with excellent password rules, etc. You have thought of everything. And now you are moving your datacenter to a new building; and you, and your auditors know that most information theft occurs by unauthorized access to the equipment.

How can you secure your equipment while in route, and know that it arrived untampered?

Alcyone offers three options. First is a secured transit which is analogous to certified mail. We will seal each box and the truck verifying the seals with the client upon delivery. Second is a watched shipment where we will “ride shotgun” in the truck with the secured transit. And last we can provide a protected shipment where licensed law enforcement officials will escort the vehicle while in route.

These can be provided as a move oversight function for your existing logistics provider or we can arrange a complete solution using our network of trained datacenter move specialists.

Secured:

Choose this option when you need to know your equipment arrived un-tampered. This is so you can meet the basic Sarbanes Oxley and related information security requirements while your datacenter is in transit. It effectively stops an opportunistic theft.

While packing items are checked by our security detail, sealed in the box using our proprietary seals, each box is inventoried as it is put into the truck, and the truck is locked and sealed. Signatures are collected at each step of the moving process.

To assure that nothing is tampered with while in-transit the keys to the truck locks are sent separately; and our one-time-use box seals are destroyed in the client’s presence.

Watched:

Choose this if you are trying to protect yourself from organized corporate espionage. You will receive all the security of our Secured Move with a licensed protection detail that will personally escort the shipment and provide immediate alert if someone attempts to tamper with the shipment.

Protected:

‘Your datacenter in a Brinks truck’

This option is for when you have to know your equipment and information is safe at all times. For the highest degree of confidence our escorts will coordinate with law enforcement officials along the shipping route you have selected. This will stop any unwelcome equipment and information access before it occurs.
